

Conclusion

Toronto is a great city for young professionals.

With an abundance of employment opportunities available in the Downtown Core, Liza can find affordable housing options in regions with low crime rates and high diversity such as East York, Scarborough and Etobicoke, and leverage Toronto's well connected transit system to commute to these places for work.